Plastic Tubs Now Accepted at Miramar Recycling Center

All plastic tubs for food and non-hazardous household products are now accepted by the Miramar Recycling Center.

Containers must be clean and contain no metal, food waste or trash, and separated from other recyclables. Styrofoam and clamshell plastic are not accepted.

The plastic tubs generally have a pry-off lid rather than a screw top and mostly contain food packaging such as yogurt and other dairy products. Household products and pet litter are also sold in the tubs.

No tubs may be placed in city of San Diego residents' blue recycling bins. The tubs are only accepted at the Miramar Recycling Center and taken as a donation. No scrap value will be paid and no fee will be charged.

The Miramar Recycling Center, managed by the Allan Company, is located north of Route 52 at 5165 Convoy Street, before the Miramar Landfill's entrance.

The Recycling Center welcomes a broad variety of recyclables and will redeem all California Redemption Value (CRV) beverage containers, and recycle all non-CRV bottles and jars, electronics, appliances, scrap metals, cardboard, paper, tires, and even old toilets.

For more information, call the Recycling Center at 858-268-8971, or visit the city's website, www.recyclingworks.com, and look for "Recycling Centers."
